INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this publication is to provide selected information on Fire Districts and Volunteer Fire Departments in Rhode Island. Many volunteer departments are part of a Fire District, which is essentially a funding mechanism with taxation powers granted by the General Assembly. Other departments and fire companies which are not part of a Fire District rely primarily on appropriations from the individual town in which they are located (see pages 8 – 9).

Currently, there are 43 Fire Districts in 15 of Rhode Island's 31 towns (see page 2). In 2004, a new Fire District was established in the Town of Exeter; and in 2006 three fire districts [Tiogue, Washington & Harris] in the Town of Coventry were merged into the Central Coventry Fire District. A total of 39 of these districts either maintain fire departments/fire companies or provide fire service through agreements with neighboring fire districts.

There are 5 Fire Districts which have agreements with neighboring districts. They are Indian Lake Shores in the Town of South Kingstown, Quonochontaug Central Beach and Shady Harbor in the Town of Charlestown, and Shelter Harbor and Weekapaug in the Town of Westerly.

There are 35 volunteer departments and fire companies within these fire districts. There are also another 17 Volunteer Fire Departments and Fire Companies which are not part of any Fire District (see pages 8 – 9).

Although our major focus is fire departments and volunteer fire companies, this report, for the sake of completeness, includes those "fire districts" which are not responsible for the provision of fire services. These districts are the North Tiverton and the Stone Bridge Fire Districts in the Town of Tiverton, the Portsmouth Water & Fire District in the Town of Portsmouth, and the Bonnet Shores Fire District in the Town of Narragansett. These districts (with the exception of Bonnet Shores) provide water service to their residents. The Bonnet Shores District provides such services as road maintenance, trash collection, and recreation.
